

The Flying Chef

posted by admin on mar 10 2009 | uncategorized

Besides art, I am a huge fan of cooking. I think there are many parallels between the creation of art and the preparation of a good meal.

Tonight we had a real treat. We hired the Flying Chef to show us and our friends how to make some chinese dishes. For about 150RMB a person, the chef comes to your house armed with pots, dishes, ingredients and talent. The best part is that he cleans up afterwards! He cooked a total of six dishes: sweet and sour chicken, spicy tofu, fried rice, bamboo with mushrooms, beef with celery and carrots and spicy chicken. Needless to say, I'm stuffed!